public school teachers protest today

By W. J. WARD, JR.
A large group of public school teachers in Hancock County will be protesting today against the State Legislature's failure to provide pay raises and improve education in Mississippi.

The Mississippi Association of Education has designated today as a day of unity for teachers in all parts of the state.

But, Hancock County teachers will be protesting in a more dramatic way. They will picket the county courthouse and the state capitol building in Jackson.

Teachers will also picket the state capitol building in Jackson. They will picket the state capitol building in Jackson. They will picket the state capitol building in Jackson.

Health insurance for teachers died in the House Education Subcommittee on March 2. That day some 6,000 public school teachers and administrators marched in Jackson in an attempt to meet with legislators.

Most of state leaders scurried to lunch before the teachers arrived at legislative chambers.

But several South Mississippi legislators, including Sen. Martin Smith of Pontcharville and Rep. J.P. Combs of Bay St. Louis, met with teachers to support their efforts.

Citizens organize against powerline

By W. J. WARD, JR.
Hancock County citizens are organizing against a proposed powerline route through the county.

The proposed route of the line has not been determined, according to Lynn Hays, Public Service Commissioner for the Mississippi Southern District.

However, surveys for the line have been conducted in Hancock County following the approval of the PSC.

Hancock residents claim a man preceding the survey crews informed them the line route of the line may vary some one-half mile in either direction of the route marked in this county.

Many citizens living near the proposed half-million volt line are frightened that the line could be hazardous to their health. Others are angered that they have received only misinformation and no information about the line.

For this reason, a group of citizens met last Saturday in a rooming house to discuss what action can be taken to excellent college prospect," Favre said. Mark Santalla, out with injuries during the final five games of last year's season, will be directing the Hawk offense.

A Junior High School game between the two teams is scheduled at 5 p.m. the same evening.

Dennis LaCote will be starting at full back and Lydell

Curry who had an excellent season for the Hawks last year, will also contribute to the Hawk offense. Tickets are $2 for students and $2.50 for adults. Concessions will also be available.

Perk Lady Bulldogs striving to save state softball title

The Gulf Coast Junior College Lady Bulldogs are in defense of the 1991 state softball title when they meet Pensacola on Tuesday, March 10 at Pensacola, Fla.

The Bulldogs captured the state title by defeating McAllen, Hinds and East Mississippi Junior Colleges. They ended their first season 22-0 overall.

Coach Doris Smith said the team had six starters from last year and has played well during practice. Last year the players were dedicated and hard working, Smith said. "I think it will be the same this season."

McAllen's Jackie Kelly, a senior, pitched a perfect game in the first round. Kelly, a right-handed pitcher, was named the state's best pitcher. She is a senior and has been a starter for the Bulldogs for three years.

Extended-Wear Contact Lenses

Thousands of nearsighted people, who previously had only the option of eye glasses or ordinary contact lenses for vision correction, are choosing the convenience and comfort of extended-wear contact lenses. These new extended-wear lenses can be worn around the clock—even while sleeping—for up to two weeks without removal.

The principle behind this type of the air contact lens is that it allows water content and oxygen to pass through the lens, keeping the eye moist and healthy. The lens is made of a special material that allows oxygen to pass through it. The lens is made of a special material that allows oxygen to pass through it.

Former West Point commandant heads Keesler Training Center

Major Gen. Thomas C. Richards, who currently commands the U.S. Air Force Recruiting Service, has assumed command of Keesler Technical Training Center, Monday.

He was promoted to major general this month.

A highly decorated officer, the 52-year-old Richards began his military career with the U.S. Army in 1949. He served as a platoon sergeant during the Korean War and was wounded twice.

Following service with the Army, Richards attended Virginia Polytechnic Institute, graduating in 1956 with a bachelor's degree in business administration. He earned his commission through the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps program at VPI.

Richards served two consecutive tours in Southeast Asia, flying a total of 62 combat missions against the North Vietnamese.

He took command of the Air Force's Recruiting Service, headquartered at Randolph AFB, Texas, upon leaving the academy.

A command pilot, Richards also holds a senior parachutist rating and wears the Combat Infantry Badge. He also wears the Distinguished Service Medal, two Silver Stars, two Legions of Merit, two Purple Hearts, and numerous other decorations.

According to officials at Air Training Command Headquarters, Brig. Gen. Winfield S. Harpe is taking command of Air Force Recruiting Service. Harpe moves to this position from duties as vice commander of the Air Force Manpower and

Open a Hancock Bank Individual Retirement Account, and # CUT YOUR TAXES.

One of the biggest tax breaks in years has come along, and it's waiting for you, at Hancock Bank. It's the Individual Retirement Account—and it just may be the only real weapon you have to beat back inflation and save for your retirement.

Cut your taxes two ways.

IRAs have been around for a while now, but effective January 1st, sweeping new changes make them more attractive than ever.

With the new rules, now anyone with earned income can open an IRA, whether already covered by a pension plan or not. And the annual maximums you can contribute to an IRA have changed, too. Beginning in 1982, individuals can contribute up to $2,000 (up to $2,250 for yourself and non-working spouse). And if you both work, the ceiling goes up to $4,000.

Here's the best part. The full amount you contribute each year to your IRA is tax-deductible. And all the money in your IRA, including interest, is tax-deferred until you begin withdrawing it, when you'll likely be in a lower tax bracket.

Tax-deferred savings grow faster.

The money that stays in your IRA account that would have gone to taxes makes a dramatic difference in how your nest egg grows. For example, if you deposited $2,000 every year to your IRA for the next 30 years, that $60,000 will balloon to over $360,000, based on a conservative 10% annual compounded return.

Get the facts.

To find out how to get in on this monumental tax break, stop by any Hancock Bank office. We'll show you how to cut your taxes the rest of your life with the tax-cut of a lifetime.

HANCOCK BANK

Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal of funds from an IRA. Also, the Internal Revenue Service imposes a 10% penalty on the amount withdrawn, and the amount withdrawn must be included in taxable income.
